Age Guide Audit Reflections

I included this project, because it was supposed to be one of many audits but the information I found made the administration review all other sites and make corrections before the new fiscal year. I found this very interesting and profoundly fun because I love crunching numbers, but the best part was that I was able to help a great organization. Meals on Wheels have a lot of checks and balances but for me, I was able to take an outside prospective and audit them in an effective way. The most challenging aspect, I thought as I look back was presenting the data to Richard because of what I found. However, because of Richard he helped guide me through me through both SEL's and help me build a fantastic foundation into this world. I think this is very important because whatever career I choose, have informatics experience can be helpful in almost every career option. While I did learn a lot from this audit, I also learned that the data for the most part doesn't lie, and while there may be physical objects during an audit, your best option is the data. This is what helped me through a lot of the coursework in this program, and instead of looking at the written portions of studies, the data is key, and this is where you will find the answers. Overall, I think having this audit under my belt was truly transformative because it helped me understand so many aspects that go into the daily operations of these organizations.
